Natchez, Nov. 25, 1890,

Dear Mrs. Coburn,

Your letter arrived while I was out of town for a few days. Hence a little delay has been caused but not so great, I hope, as to inconvenience your plans. I send you by this (Tuesday) evening's mail the other copies of the first test. I will pay the expenses (25 cts. probably) and will reserve for myself 8 copies. I want a few in hand for we are constantly having calls for them and I suppose we never can get any more except at considerable expense.

You may tell anyone that Mrs. Carson wrote the first letter without assistance or revision by another hand.

My husband listened to it after it was finished and at his suggestion I omitted a few passages. You see, and made a few changes. Remember that I omitted also a few expressions, at your kind suggestion. I could write a volume on the same subject. I have not seen the Advocate's Editorial but shall try to obtain it. There was also in Lorrin's Journal for Friday, a copy, a short abstract of it.

The Freshman girls have come to me for advice as to whether they should join the Boys in their class election.
I shall advise them to accept the invitation by all means.
It will be for the good of all parties concerned, and also for the good of the college, I am sure. They were foolish enough to ask Pres. Sandall's advice. He says he won't advise them, as it is none of his business but he thinks it will be pleasanter for them to have their own or-organization. I have no space for comment. Make your own. Please keep me informed of your whereabouts. His wish as I may wish to write to you. You will know where to find me. Be more next week and I shall soon be at the State House. Sincerely M. L. Leavitt.
P.S.

The outlook for co-education seems to be growing a little brighter now, don't you think so? Everybody is watching the college with great interest. Judge Winnhause says this new plan is "a piece of folly." If you know of anything of interest, please write again. So much now. In great haste.

M.C. L. C.
