

Waterville, Nov. 25, 1890.

Dear Miss Coburn,

Your letter arrived while I was out of town for a few days. Hence a little delay has been caused but not so great, I hope, as to inconvenience your plans. I send you by this (Tuesday) evening's mail the other copies of the protest. I will pay the express (25 cts. probably) and <sup>in payment</sup> will reserve for myself 8 copies. I want a few on hand for we are constantly having calls for them and I suppose we never can get any more except at considerable expense.

You may tell anyone that Mrs. Casper wrote the protest herself without assistance or revision by another hand.

My husband listened to it after it was finished and at his suggestion I omitted a few passages. You remember that I omitted also a few <sup>and made a few changes</sup> expressions, at your kind suggestion. I could write a volume on the same subject. I have not seen the Advertiser's Editorial but shall try to obtain it. There was also in <sup>the</sup> Levinston Journal for Friday, I am told, a short abstract of it.

The Lushman girls have come to me for advice as to whether they should join the boys in their class election. I shall advise them to accept the invitation by all means. It will be for the good of all parties concerned and also for the good of the college, I am sure. They were foolish enough to ask Pres. Sandall's advice. He says "He won't advise them, as it is none of the faculty's business but he thinks it will be pleasanter for them to have their own organization". I have no space for comment. Make your own. Please keep me informed of your whereabouts this winter as I may wish to write to you. You will know where to find me. Be gone next week and I shall soon be at the State House. Sincerely M. L. Carver.

P.S.

The outlook for co-education seems to be growing a little brighter now, don't you think so? Everybody is watching the college with great interest. Judge Whitehouse says this new plan is "a piece of folly". If you know of anything of interest, please write <sup>at times</sup> <sub>any</sub> no more now. In great haste
